Bonds and School Districts.

Editor News:—

I will write you good paper a few lines before all the candidates get in their announcements. I fear there will be no room then. Sure there are a lot of candidates but what do they stand for? Are they in favor of issuing bonds to make our county roads and to consolidate our school districts against the will of the people? I want to say to you, Mr. Candidate, that I will not vote for any man in favor of issuing bonds or consolidating our school districts against the will and wishes of a majority of the voters of our county, and patrons of our schools. If my vote is my own, have I not the right to do as I please with it? Others can do as they please, but I will not vote for a sub-district trustee unless I know absolutely how he stands on these questions. Voters of Adair county, Kentucky, what do you say? Now is the time to speak. Let us hear from you. Are you willing for the majority to rule.

R. B. Reeves.

Notice to Trustees.

An effort is being made by State Supt. Hamlett to get an exact census of the pupil children in every county. In addition to the usual census blanks a census pad must be filled by every parent and this pad filed in my office. If the exact age of child is not known the parent must decide at the best of his or her knowledge the date of birth. A census of all illiterate children between the ages of ten and twenty must also be made. Trustees read carefully the instructions given on census blanks and be governed accordingly. I will not accept these reports unless they are correct.

Russell & Co's. Opening.

We venture the assertion that no store looked handsomer on the eve of Easter than that of Russell & Co., this place.

The show windows were especially attractive, and on the interior, a glance was sufficient to convince visitors that artists had been at work.

There were more fine dress patterns, shoes, in fact every thing worn by ladies and gentlemen on exhibition than ever before at any one store have at this season of the year.

Thursday and Friday were the opening days, no effort being made to sell goods, an invitation to the people to come and see what was in stock. During the two days the store was swarmed with sightseers, the result of their visits to come later.

Notice.

In the matter of W. L. Gadberry, Bankrupt.

To the creditors of W. L. Gadberry, of Sparksville, in the county of Adair, and district aforesaid, a bankrupt:

Notice is hereby given that on the 28th day of March, A. D., 1913, at 10 o'clock, a. m., there will be a meeting of the creditors of the above-named bankrupt at Lebanon, Ky., in the office of Ben Spalding, in said district, to examine and pass upon the final report and account of the trustee herein, which was filed in the office of the undersigned at Lebanon, Ky., in said district, on the 28th day of March, 1913, and shows $0 on hand for distribution, and to transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

Dated March 17 1913.

Ben Spalding,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

There will be plenty of elbow room at the annual meeting of the Kentucky Educational Association which will be held in the City of Louisville on April 30, May 1, 2 and 3. It is expected that at least 5,000 teachers will be present. The Association has been growing in popularity, more teachers have been attending, and greater interest has been manifested each year for the past eight years, until it has become a difficult matter to entertain the Association in the smaller towns of the State. Many teachers have remained away because suitable accommodations could not always be secured. By going to Louisville all teachers who desire to attend can obtain suitable accommodations.

Mrs. L. L. Eubank is the agent for the Spirella made to measure Corset, the most comfortable and the most durable that is manufactured. She has sold them by the score and every lady who has worn one speaks of the Spirella in the highest terms. Mrs. Eubank will call at your homes or you can see her at her residence. Wait and let her explain the advantages of this popular corset.

The Fiscal Court of Adair county will convene next Tuesday.

Hattie Garnett Murrell Coles.

The intelligence of the death of Mrs. Hattie G. Coles, wife of Mr. J. S. Coles, reached this place last Tuesday night, her death having occurred at her late home, Grayville, Ill., Sunday, the 16th inst. Her relatives and friends here were not apprised of her illness and her death was a shock and a surprise to them. She was a native of Columbia and was a daughter of Joseph B. and Margaret Murrell, and was a niece of Mr. J. E. Murrell, this city. She was reared in this place, and when a young girl she confessed her faith in Christ, united with the Baptist Church and lived a godly woman until the final dissolution.

About the time she was grown her family of brothers and sisters removed to Campbellsville and later they took up their residence in Middlesboro. At the latter place she met and became acquainted with Mr. J. S. Coles, of Grayville, Ill., and they were subsequently married, going to the husband's home.

Last June Mr. and Mrs. Coles and their two children, Murrell and Jessie visited Mrs. Coles relatives in this place, and the indications pointed to a very happy family.

About six weeks ago Mrs. Coles became the mother of the third child, a daughter, and perhaps the result of this birth brought on the death of the mother.

Mrs. Coles was thirty-seven years old, and besides her husband, she leaves three children, three brothers and three sisters. May God comfort them in this time of great sorrow.

The funeral services were held at Grayville last Tuesday afternoon and were attended by a large number of sympathizing relatives and friends.

Special Term Casey Circuit Court.

We are informed that an order was entered at the March term of Casey Circuit Court, calling a special term of said court to convene on May 13th for the trial of ordinary civil actions. A jury will be summoned and impaneled, the term will probably last three or four days. Judge J. C. Carter will preside.

Prof. T. J. Coates, Rural School Supervisor of the State, was in Columbia last Saturday and met the County School Superintendent and other members of the county Board of Education. He discussed the rural school problems and the Board considers he gave it some valuable information.

Mr. L. A. Taylor and Mr. E. C. Coppage, of Campbellsville, contractors, were here last Monday, figuring with Mr. Walker Bryant for a brick residence.

THIEVES AT WORK.

Press Miller's Store Broken Into, Money and Goods Taken, No Clue.

Some time during Monday night or early Tuesday morning, Press Miller's grocery store on the north side of the square was entered by a thief or thieves and money and goods stolen. It is not known how much cash was in the money drawer. Monday's sales had not been taken out and there were a lot of checks and a pocket-book containing cash belonging to Mr. A. A. Miller.

Entrance to the store was perfected by prizing open the grate on the outside. This done it was easy to reach the door leading from the store room to the cellar, which was knocked open and the main room entered. The money drawer was wrenched from its place and the cash and checks taken.

Mr. Press Miller is not at home and there is no way of telling how much the thieves got.

Whoever it is has been making efforts to enter stores for several weeks.

An effort will be made to run down the perpetrators.

I have several sample Shoes and Slippers that I can save you money on.

Frank Sinclair.

Sunday Services.

Mr. Charles F. Evans, who is working in the interest of the Christian Endeavor Society, was in Columbia last Sunday and delivered two interesting addresses. The services were held at the Baptist church and a large number of young people were out to hear him. His talks were highly appreciated, and the local society was greatly stimulated.

The Epworth League gave an open session in the Methodist church chapel, many being present. Prof. Ivan McDougle delivered a fine talk and the music was delightful.

Sunday forenoon a large congregation heard Rev. J. N. Crawford at the Presbyterian church. The sermon was of special interest.

Notice.

All persons indebted to me are requested to come and settle as soon as possible. The condition of my health requires that I close up my business.

Respectfully,
Jas. T. Page.

Birthday Dinner.

Mr. W. A. Hindman, father of Miss Pearl Hindman, celebrated his seventieth birthday last Sunday. A magnificent dinner was spread and his children invited and a delightful day was spent. Mr. Hindman is one of Adair's best citizens, and though carrying the weight of three score and ten, he is hale and hearty and his many friends trust that he may live to celebrate many more birth days. He is fond of his children and his children are devoted to him, and though companionless, he is as happy as a man could be under the circumstances. His children do not call him "the old man," but reverently address him as a loving father.

I have a fine brand of fertilizer, as good as is made. Will sell cheap. Give me a call

S. McKinley.

Maj J. W. Ottley has one of the nicest meat stands ever established in this town. He has put in a large refrigerator and has cut off a room and had it screened for the purpose of keeping nice cuts on display. It is his intention to furnish fresh meats the year round. Mr. Clint Smith is his butcher.

I will pay $7.00 for 135 pound hogs and up until the 15th of April. No roughs nor skips.

L. W. Bennett.

Mr. George E. Wilson has sold a half interest in his store to Mr. W. H. Gill. The inventory has been taken and the business is now being conducted under the firm name. Mr. Gill is a fine citizen and his friends will be glad to trade with him. Mr. Wilson is known to all his customers as a courteous business man.

The Fiscal Court, in next month, will convene before the County Court. The former will meet on Tuesday, April 1st, and the latter Monday, the 7th.

R. L. Campbell Has His Say.

Dirigo, Ky., March 15th, 1913.

Editor News:

It appears that the recent discussion of the road question through the columns of your paper has aroused quite an interest on that subject in this county and I have been asked by fifty or more persons within the last few days to express my views of that subject. So if you will be so kind as to allow me space I will say a few words.

I will say in the beginning that I am strictly opposed to bonding the county for any purpose whatever. Because in the first place there is no necessity for it at present; and secondly because that is one of the most costly ways in which money could be raised. For as has been well said by other writers, county bonds rarely ever sell at par and then some broker must be paid for selling them. Thus the people are called upon to pay a higher rate of interest on the money thus obtained from the sale of bonds than could be collected from them should they borrow money on their individual security. And as a bond is simply a mortgage in disguise when the county issues bonds every man's property is bound for the debt. And in the few years that I have been practicing law and thus obtaining an insight of the workings of the various methods of business my observation has been that mortgaged property never sells for its full value, and in many instances I have known property to decrease as much as 50 per cent. on account of being encumbered. And by the way it is not necessary to go to Taylor and Green counties to get examples of the effect of encumbering property. But just go the records of the Adair Circuit Court and you will find all of the evidence you need. And if a private mortgage will rob even widows and orphans of a home, is it possible to paint a public mortgage as black as it really is? For a public mortgage under the disguise of bond is ten fold more dangerous than a private mortgage. So never, never bond the county for any purpose.

I do not believe there is a man in the county who believes in good roads stronger than I do, but I believe we can get them without creating a debt that must eventually bankrupt the county. I further believe that if the money that is today being collected from the people was judiciously expended on the roads in less than ten years we would have excellent roads. I believe that the County Judge could well afford to assume the duties of Road Supervisor without any material increase in salary. And should those additional duties prove to be too burdensome for that officer the County Attorney could assist him. And while it is a fact that neither of these officers receive a large salary, I am sure that they would willingly perform these additional duties without extra pay. Then select a good public spirited citizen in each community to act as overseer to direct the work of the hands on his particular section of road, furnish him with plenty of good tools; expend the eighteen hundred or more dollars that is now being paid to the Road Engineer and his deputies each year in filling up mud-holes and putting on gravel or stone and I am sure that the gentleman who would undertake to haul the twelve hundred pounds to Fairplay the other day will soon be asking for three thousand pounds for a load. But we may employ a dozen Engineers at $600 or more per year and furnish them one thousand assistants to ride around at $1 per day, but we will never have good roads until somebody goes to work to make them. Expert advice and good Engineering may assist but it is going to take muscle and will to make roads. So let us expend some of the money that we are now paying for advice for work and I am sure that even those who now favor bonds will be more optimistic.

I have been in many sections of the county lately and have talked with many men but have not found a single man outside of Columbia who favors bonds. I have talked with practically every candidate for a county office and believe that before the Primary they will be as a unit, opposed to bonds. Thus I am not by myself when I oppose the issuing of bonds. And I trust that all good citizens will stand by me in opposing the creation of a debt that would be sure to cause our property to decrease in value; a debt that this generation could never pay, and that would be a burden to our children and the future generations.

Yours very truly,
R. L. Campbell.

I thank my friends, one and all, for their many expressions of kindness and appreciation of my ability to return. "There is no place like home."

Russell County Loses a Good Citizen.

Mr. John W. Haynes, who lived in Russell county, just over the Adair line, and near Montpelier, died last Thursday night after a long illness. Russell county has no better citizen than was the deceased, and he will be greatly missed. He was a high toned Christian gentleman, a devoted husband and an affectionate father. He was afflicted for more than a year, and for the past three or four months friends had to sit up with him.

The funeral services were conducted last Sunday, Elds. F. J. Barger and Z. T. Williams officiating. There were many sympathizing friends present. The deceased was about 70 years old.

Friday Morning's Storm.

A heavy storm passed over this place last Friday morning, beginning about 1 o'clock and lasting until 3:30. It did no serious damage. Outbuildings, swings and fencing were scattered, and a number of trees were topped.

Mr. John Lee Walker, who lives on Bomar Heights, lost the greater part of the main flue of his residence. The brick were scattered all over his porch and yard.

Quite a number of families became frightened, left their homes and went to the residences of neighbors.

Known to Many Columbians.

The intelligence of the death of Miss Sue Hunn was received by the Hunn family, this city, last Saturday afternoon, the end having come at Junction City a few minutes before the message was sent.

During the flourishing days of the Columbia Christian College Miss Hunn was a pupil from Lincoln county in the institution and during her stay in school here she became acquainted with the entire town and was exceedingly popular with the young people, being the life of social functions.

Her surviving friends in Columbia and all her school mates will regret to hear of her death.

She is a sister of Mrs. A. Hunn, this place.

School Superintendents.

County school superintendents must make annual settlements with the fiscal courts in this state in the future. Complying with the request of Superintendent of Public Instruction Hamlett, Attorney General Garnett gave an opinion that it is the duty of the fiscal court to set a date to settle with the county superintendents just as the sheriffs. Hamlett set apart May 18 to be observed in the public schools of this state as Peace day. It is to commemorate the opening of The Hague peace conference in 1899.

Millinery Openings.

We failed to visit either Mrs. Atkins or Mrs. Staples' millinery parlors during the opening days, last Thursday and Friday, but we have heard many expressions from ladies who visited both establishments, and they were loud in their praise of the many handsome hats on exhibition.

These two ladies are enjoying a fine trade and they deserve the patronage of the home people. They employ artistic trimmers and there is no good reason to leave home to purchase a hat.

News reached here that Mr. Wm. Irvine, well-known in Columbia, an uncle of Mr. Jas. T. Page, is very sick at the home of his son, Dr. W. T. Irvine, Jonesville, Ind. Mr. Irvine is eighty-six years old and has been a very active man all his life. He was born and reared near Camp Knox, Green county, where his friends are numerous. He writes that in all probability he will never again be at his old home.

Presiding Elder W. F. Hogard, left Friday morning for Barren and Monroe counties where he will hold two quarterly meetings, the last of his second round. He will return home in about one week and will begin his third round. The present Conference year is now half out, and by the end of the year Rev. Hogard thinks he will have a most gratifying report to make to Conference at its next session.

Mr. Walker Bryant bought, a few days ago, from James P. Conover, a farm containing 134 acres for $3,000. Quite a lot of good timber is on it.

Spring hats and spring dresses were very much in evidence last Sunday.

The Bond Question Not an Issue.

Editor News:—

Having received so many inquiries from different portions of the county relative to the provisions of the law in regard to bonds for road purposes, I deem it my duty to make a statement through the columns of the News, hoping thereby to clarify the muddle which we seem to have gotten into. A great deal has been written and more has been said, upon the subject, but no one thus far, so far as I have observed, has undertaken to inform the people just what steps are necessary to be taken in order to bring about a bond issue. I think when the people thoroughly understand what legal steps must be had in order to make an issue before the people that they will cease to have any fears that there will be any bond issue.

The last legislature enacted a new road law which, among other things, provides that one hundred and fifty legal voters of the county, who are land owners, may petition the county court to call an election for the purpose of taking the sense of the voters of the county on the question of whether they favor the issue of bonds for the purpose of building roads. Should a petition of this kind be filed in the county court it would be the duty of the court to enter an order calling an election, and causing a poll to be opened in each voting precinct in the county, at which election all the voters of the county would have an opportunity to vote on the question.

This election would have to be called and held at a time when no other question would be submitted, and would have to be held not less than sixty days after entering the order calling the election. Due notice would have to be given of said election by publication in a newspaper, and by posters posted up at four places in each voting precinct.

At said election, and before the proposition could be declared carried, two-thirds of all the votes cast at said election would have to be cast in favor of said bonds.

None of these steps have been taken and none are likely to be taken, because the first step is the petition, and judging from expressions which I have heard, the necessary number of voters who favored the proposition, could not be found in this county to sign a petition.

The people in this county seem to be unanimous in their opposition to bonds, and they ought to be, because a careful study of the question will convince any one who is familiar with the conditions in this county that a bond issue would be a very unwise step. Adair county is a large county in area, and has within its borders six hundred miles and more of public road.

The taxable list of Adair county only $2,800,000.

The maximum limit of bonds, under the constitution, that Adair county could issue would be the sum of $140,000. This amount would not build seventy-five miles of good road.

Should bonds be issued a tax levy of twenty cents on each one hundred dollars of taxable property would have to be levied, as is provided by law, to pay the interest on these bonds, a greater levy than this is not provided for by law. The interest on this amount of bonds at six per cent., per annum, would be $8,400.00. The assessable list of the county, would raise $5,600 per year. This would lack $2,800 of raising enough each year to pay the interest, and the debt would become larger each year instead of smaller.

No funds would then be available to keep these roads in repair after they had been built by bond issue, and the other five hundred miles of road could have no funds appropriated to them at all.

I might further suggest that roads built by bond issue with no funds to keep them in repair, it would only be a short while until these roads would be in as bad condition as the rest of the roads, and we would have on our hands bonds but no roads.

Our only remedy on the road question is to get a road law enacted that is suitable to conditions in this county, and this has to be obtained through the law-making body of the State, the General assembly, no other authority can furnish a solution of the question; we must look to the legislature of the State.

Let us get over our scare about bonds; the county Judge cannot issue bonds; the Fiscal court cannot issue bonds unless the people vote them; no other officer can issue them; there are not enough people in Adair county for them to even make it a question.

Yours Respectfully,
Gordon Montgomery.

The smallpox scare is almost over. There has been several cases in Lone Oak in which only three proved fatal.

Robert G. Ingersoll's Vision.

A vision of the future rises:

I see our country filled with happy homes, with firesides of content—the foremost land of all the earth.

I see a world where thrones have crumbled and where kings are dust. The aristocracy of idleness has perished from the earth.

I see a world without a slave. Man at last is free. Nature's forces have by science been enslaved. Lightning and light, wind and wave, frost and fame, and all the secret, subtle powers of the air the tireless toilers for the human race.

I see a world at peace, adorned with every form of art, with music's myriad voices thrilled, while lips are rich, the words of love and truth—a world in which no exile sighs, prisoner mourns, a world on which the gibbet's shadow does not fall; a world where labor reaps its full reward; where work and worth go hand in hand, where the poor girl trying to win bread, where the needle—the needle that has been called "the asp for the breast of the poor"—is not driven to the desperate choice of crime or death of suicide or shame. I see a world without the beggar's outstretched palm, the miser's heartless, stony stare; the piteous wail of want, the livid lips of lies, the cruel eyes of scorn.

I see a race without disease of flesh or brain—shapely and fair, the married harmony of form and function—and, as I look, life lengthens, joy deepens, love canopies the earth, and over all, in the great dome, shines the eternal star of human hope.

There was a holiness meeting at Oak Grove church Sunday conducted by a colored woman, of Dayton, Ohio.

A very sad and unexpected death occurred at Oak Grove church Saturday evening at the home of William Perryman. His wife being the victim. She was as well as usual and had been to McGaha that day. She had prepared supper, ate heartily and was sitting by the fire when she dropped dead from her chair. She was about 67 years old a good neighbor and kind to the sick. She was loved by every body who knew her. She leaves a husband who is 81 years old, two daughters in this state and one in Missouri, and three sons in the west besides a host of relatives and friends in this section. Obituary.

The following lines in memory of "Uncle" Joe Bell are written for the comfort of his dearly beloved yet heartbroken children, also his many relatives and friends. The subject of this sketch was born July 4th, 1836, died March 10th, 1913. He was married to Miss Hibernia Walker who died in the year 1888. To this union were born five children all of whom are living except an infant that preceded them to the grave some 30 years ago. Great was the surprise and great was the sorrow when the death angel came and bore the message that God had sent that his work was finished here, come up higher and he calmly went to sleep, yea asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep, from which none ever wake. He had been in declining health for almost a year but had regained some strength and his sudden death was a severe shock to the family and community as he was ill only a few hours. It seemed to say in peals of thunder that "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away," at his own time and by his own means, and we can only say blessed be the name of the Lord.

The bereaved children have the tender sympathy of the entire community in this the saddest of afflictions. May the family circle that has so long on earth been broken be reunited in the sweet by and by where parting will be no more. To the children who have had the care of him we would say: "Judge not the Lord by feeble sense." But trust Him for His grace, behind a frowning providence He hides a smiling face.

"They are going, slowly going, One by one they disappear, Kindred friends and little children, To our loving hearts so dear.

"They have entered life eternal, We shall see them here no more, One by one we'll join their number, When our pilgrimage is o'er." His niece, Cattie H. Bell.

The bond of Thomas E. Richardson, the new Sheriff of Taylor county, was filed with the State Auditor Saturday, and approved. Owing to the complications over the collection of a railroad tax, Taylor county has not had a Sheriff for something like 20 years, but as the tax matter has been settled in the United States Court on compromise judgment, a Sheriff was appointed by the County Judge.

Federal Law to Save State Money.

The enactment into a federal law of the bill providing for the physical examination of all railroad lines in the country by the Interstate Commerce Commission will be worth to Kentucky hundreds of thousands of dollars in savings and increased revenue, in the opinion of Chairman Laurance Finn, of the State Railroad Commission, who has been watching the progress of this piece of legislation. The State Railroad Commission adopted a resolution when the assessment of the railroads was made for 1912 providing for the employment of an expert to inspect the books and make a valuation of all the physical property of the roads, but it is believed now that this will be unnecessary, as the federal law provided for valuing the property according to states, showing the value of the railroad lines within the borders of each state.

A Word to the Wise!

President Wilson has issued a word which, to the wise, ought to be sufficient, and if the Latin-American republics have wisdom left in them in quantities sufficient to defend their ears to the shooting of guns, things will go better. The word is uttered in a statement issued by the President, the dominating tone of which is that "just government rests always upon the consent of the governed and that there can be no freedom without order based on law and upon public conscience and approval." Expressing an earnest desire for peace and the continuance of friendly relations with the Latin-American governments, President Wilson urges co-operation in the maintenance of peace and order between the peoples and the leaders of America, saying tersely that:

"Co-operation is possible only when supported at every turn by the orderly process of just government based upon law, not upon arbitrary or irregular force."

Throughout the entire statement there is the profoundest desire for trade relations and their increase; the determination that his administration will act upon the principles he lays down, expecting co-operation on the part of the people and leaders of the republics to whom it is addressed. He declares that this government has nothing to seek among the neighboring republics of the northern and southern continents, "except the lasting interests of the two continents," and that "mutual respect seems to us the indispensable foundation of friendships between states as well as individuals."

It is the first official announcement of the new administration with reference to foreign relations. It is timely, conservative, firm and comprehensive in its laying down of the fundamental principles of right on which nations, no less than men, must deal with each other. It is a document which brings respect from the European peoples and governments, from the people of the United States and a document which should command like respect in the republics to whose peoples and governments it is addressed.—Owensboro Messenger.

The Cause of Rheumatism

Stomach trouble, lazy liver and deranged kidneys are the cause of rheumatism. Get your stomach, liver kidneys and bowels in a healthy condition by taking Electric Bitters, and you will not be troubled with the pains of rheumatism. Charles B. May be your rheumatic pains come from stomach, liver or kidney troubles. Electric Bitters will give you prompt relief. 50c and $1. Recommended by Pauli Drug Co.

STARTING OUT WELL.

There is a great deal in the first impression, and Mr. Wilson's beginning of his four years of power has made an excellent impression on the country, says the Cincinnati Enquirer. His address, while expressing with genuine feeling and perfect literary form the progressive sentiment so universally prevalent, far from indicating a dangerous radical program, distinctly disavowed it and declared his purpose was not to destroy, but to restore. This of itself, as indicating a settled mental attitude and fixed purpose on his part, should be sufficient to reassure the timid and the doubters, of whom there have been many, and the indications are that it has done so.

Besides what is known of him and his character, and what may be gathered from his address, the Cabinet he has chosen, taken as a whole, is calculated to inspire respect and confidence. They have been carefully selected, and comprise men of force, experience and ability, in the vigor of manhood, who will do their best to help in giving the country good government and making the Administration a conspicuous success.

The position Mr. Wilson has taken in regard to appointments is a wise one. While he may not always approve the selections made by heads of departments, turning the first selection over to them exempts him from a burden which no President ought to carry when great questions of policy and of administration are continually pressing, as they are and must continue to be.

Of course, though much will depend on him, the task ahead is not all Mr. Wilson's. Before the business of the country can go forward with entire confidence, while it has no reason for apprehension, it must know that the impending tariff legislation will be reasonable and gradual and that the party in power will be able to give us the safe and elastic currency system which we have so long lacked. With those problems out of the way there ought to be, as far as the government goes, plain sailing ahead.

White House Dry.

The Wilson administration will be "dry." This expression is used entirely in the sense that appeals to the inner man of the nation and not necessarily to those who look for stereotyped methods of government. It became known that President Wilson and his family, all of them, are averse to the use of liquor or wine in any form. Intoxicating liquors will have no place in the White House during the next four years, unless the Presidents views undergo a very sharp change.

The Premier in the President's cabinet, Secretary of State Bryan, as is well-known, has been a prohibition advocate for many years. On one occasion Mr. Bryan would have made it a national issue and it was due to his efforts that the prohibition legislation in Nebraska was put into effect.

It is well known that Speaker Clark is a "teetotaler" and has been for many years. The fact that a large portion of the democratic majority in the Senate and House is from the South, where prohibition is general, makes certain the fact that there will be little wine and less was-sail than has been known in Washington for many years.

There never has been so dry a prospect in the White House since the days of President Hayes, when Mrs. Hayes excluded wines and liquors from the executive mansion immediately on becoming its mistress. The sideboard, on which the wine glasses and decanters of that administration once were displayed, now graces a local barroom.—Richmond Climax.

Democratic newspaper devoted to the interest of the City of Columbia and the people of Adair and adjacent counties.

Entered at the Columbia Post-office as second class mail matter.

WED. MARCH 26. 1913

In the discussion of the proposition to build good roads and pay for same by the issuing of county bonds we had hoped that it would be conducted in a gentlemanly manner, free from prejudice and passion. It was opened for discussion on merit and not meant as a means to an end—the securing of political office by a play of horrible predicted conditions to follow a reasonable indebtedness for the most needed public improvement, but to the contrary, an appeal to passion has been the stock-in-trade of a number of those who oppose, and up to this date not one good reason has been advanced, supported by known conditions, why such a course should not be pursued. The tremendous importance of good roads, their telling effect on the thrift of a community, the increased values that come to real estate, and other beneficial results, have never been referred to by those who have opposed a bond issue. We have shown that this county is able to borrow $75,000, and used judiciously would build 75 or 100 miles of macadam road that would be permanent and descend to the next generation more substantially than when first built. This can be done on a 25 cent levy, and each year the levy could be reduced until the roads were paid for. The money borrowed to build them could be paid to our people for labor and material. The county would have the roads, the people the money, and no one would be hurt. This money should be spent on the leading roads that receive the heaviest traffic and would connect Russell and Green, Metcalfe and Casey, Cumberland and Taylor counties and leave enough to build a few miles on other roads. There is nothing scary about this proposition, nothing dangerous to the welfare of the people. It is not an untried proposition except in this part of the country. If there is a county in the State that has been destroyed or crippled by the issue of bonds for building good roads, we trust some one will present the facts to the readers of The News. If there is a county that has built good roads and regretted it, here is space to tell the people. There appears in this issue several articles against good roads by the sale of bonds, and due to this fact we will not attempt further argument at this time. The criticisms of our position cuts no figure, and will not add a single honor to the man who gives vent to unwholesome statements. No man should undertake to argue a proposition except in an open, fair manner. Judgment and not passion should be the arbiter in any great question affecting the welfare of the people.

Mr. J. D. Eubank, of the Little Cake precinct, is announced in this week's paper a candidate for Assessor of Adair county, subject to the action of the Democratic voters at the August primary. He has been identified with the Democratic party since he reached his majority, but has never been an office seeker, this being the first time he has ever asked his party to support him for position. He is not physically strong, having lost an arm when a child. He makes no plea for sympathy on account of his misfortune. He is a man possessing a good education, and he feels that he could fill the office of Assessor with credit to himself and to the perfect satisfaction of the entire county. He is a gentleman who stands well in his own community, and is fairly well acquainted over the county. Before the primary he expects to see, personally, the Democrats of this county and present his claims. If his party will give him the nomination he would be thankful, and would do every thing in his power to make a diligent and painstaking officer. At present he is a member of the Educational Board of Adair county.

By reference to our announcement column it will be seen that Mr. Ernest Cundiff is a candidate for Assessor of Adair county subject to the action of the Progressive Republicans, expressed at the August primary. Mr. Cundiff is a son of Mr. John R. Cundiff, and was born and reared near Columbia. He is a young man of sterling character and is well qualified for the position he seeks. He will have the solid backing of the Progressive Republicans in his section of the county, and he expects to see every member of the party before the primary. Mr. Cundiff has served as deputy Sheriff in Adair, making a diligent officer. Every thing done for him by his friends in the contest will be appreciated, and should he get the nomination and become the Assessor of Adair county after the November election, he promises to make the county a faithful officer.

It is already being predicted who will win in the August primary. The canvass has scarcely commenced and of course no one has the least proper conception as to the outcome. The Democrats have good men in the field and we believe a winning ticket will be selected.

More than seventy deaths have been reported as the result of Friday morning's storm. Property loss will run up into the millions. The Southern States were hit the hardest.

Editor News:

If you will allow me space in your paper I will try to write a few lines about my trip to Illinois.

Illinois is level and is very fertile, making it one of the greatest corn and oat raising States there is. While they have better land than Kentucky the hospitality of the people cannot be compared with that of Kentuckians.

I was in Champaign county, one of the very best counties in the State. But as I did not like the people there I returned to my Kentucky home.

Land is very high there. It sells for two hundred dollars per acre. To the Kentuckian that is contemplating selling out your farm and live stock etc., my advice to you is stay in Kentucky where you can be real happy and where the sun shines brighter than anywhere in Illinois.

Illinois is a much overrated State, although in some things it surpasses Kentucky.

I would not stay among such people as they are the wickedest people that can be found anywhere. There is a greater number of people that go from Kentucky there than any other State, with Missouri a close second. Wages are very high there, $25, $32 and $50 per month on the farms. That seems to the class of people that are always employed by some one else, as much better than they can get here. But the high cost of living there makes it about equal with the wages of the Kentucky farmer's hands.

Wishing the News and its readers success I am
Yours Truly,
Dallas Wade.

78 years, two months and fifteen days old. She was taken sick with lagrippe and pneumonia set up two days before her death. She bore her suffering well until God said it is enough, come up higher. She passed away in her right mind. She joined the M. E. church when a girl, and lived a consistent member until the end. She leaves eight children, several grand children and great grand-children and a host of friends, and all who knew her, loved her.

On it looks so hard to give her up but God knows best, and we do not weep as those who have no hope, although, she cannot come to us, we can go to her. What a happy meeting that will be when we can meet where no parting ever comes and where we will never say good-by.

It sometimes seems almost unbearable to think her dear form will never again darken our door nor her dear voice never more be heard.

Dear mother thou hast left us,
The loss we deeply feel,
But 'tis God who has bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal.
Mother thou art gone but not forgotten
Never shall thy memory fade,
Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger
Round the grave where she is laid.

EASIEST Money

Egg money is the easiest and quickest money in the poultry industry. If you are going to make eggs your specialty, you should look well into the matter before purchasing stock or eggs for hatching. Heavy laying strains are not accident. That quality is bred in the stock. If the "fancy" side of the industry appeals to you, buy stock and eggs bred for the show ring. My strain of

How to be Certain of Curing Constipation

Prejudice is a hard thing to overcome, but where health is at stake and the opinion of thousands of reliable people differs from yours, prejudice then becomes your menace and you ought to lay it aside. This is said in the interest of people suffering from chronic constipation, and it is worthy of their attention.

In the opinion of legions of reliable American people the most stubborn constipation imaginable can be cured by a brief use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You may not have heard of it before, but do not doubt its merits on that account, or because it has not been blatantly advertised. It has sold very successfully on word of mouth recommendation. Parents are giving it to their children today who were given it by their parents, and it has been truthfully said that more druggists use it personally in their families than any other laxative.

Letters recently received from M. E. Myers, Morrison, Tenn., and Ada Hamersmith, 118 W. Chestnut St., Louisville, Ky., are but a few of thousands showing the esteem in which Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is held. It is mild, gentle, non-gripping—not violent, like salts or cathartics. It cures gradually and pleasantly so that in time nature again does its own work without outside aid. Constipated people owe it to themselves to use this grand bowel specific.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

"Things To Forget."

If you see tall fellow ahead of a crowd,

A leader of men, marching fearless and proud,

And you know of a tale whose mere telling aloud,

Would cause his proud head in anguish be bowed.

It is a pretty good plan to forget it if you know of a skeleton hidden away,

In a closet, guarded and kept from the day,

In the dark, and whose showing, whose sudden display,

Would cause grief and sorrow and lifelong dismay,

It is a pretty good plan to forget it if you know of a thing that will darken the joy,

Of a man or a woman, a girl or a boy,

That will wipe out a smile or at least annoy

A fellow, or cause any gladness to cloy,

It is a pretty good plan to forget it—Ex.

On Second Thought.

(By Jay E. House.)

Some women are afraid their husbands will stay out late at night and others are afraid they won't.

A woman is willing for her husband to have any thing she can give him except peace.

The well-behaved woman seldom is accosted by strange men.

The Elgin girl who wishes to marry any kind of a man - should not find it difficult to do so. There are a good many of that sort.

Tank Beverly says he has noticed that the singing commedienne seldom is either.

Cain achieved so much notoriety through the murder of Abel that his real distinction, that of being the first white child born in his community, has been overlooked.

The Forty Year Test

An article must have exceptional merit to survive for a period of forty years. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was first offered to the public in 1872. From a small beginning it has grown in favor and popularity until it has attained a world wide reputation. You will find nothing better for a cough or cold. Try it and you will understand why it is a favorite after a period of more than forty years. It not only gives relief—it cures. For sale by Tauld Drug Co.

Best Known Cough Remedy

For forty-three years Dr. King's New Discovery has been known throughout the world as the most reliable cough remedy. Over three million bottles were used last year. Isn't this proof? It will get rid of your cough, or we will refund your money. J. J. Owens, of Allendale, S. C., writes the way others have done: "After twenty years, I find that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs or colds that I have ever used. For coughs or colds and all throat and lung troubles, it has no equal. 50c and $1 at Paull Drug Co."

The Ever Present Dead.

At twenty-two minutes past 7 o'clock on morning of Apr. 15, 1865, the spirit of Abraham Lincoln passed away. As the calmness of death settled on the martyr's furrowed face Secretary Stanton turned away, exclaiming, "Now he belongs to the ages." True! His influence is larger today than in 1865. He is greater as an influence dead than living. So, too, Phillips Brooks. While he lived he was the rector of Trinity church and bishop of Massachusetts. Now he is larger than any church. Lincoln and Brooks, with many others, belong to humanity, "to the parliament of man, the federation of the world." The swift steamboat and the flying train tell us that Watt and Stevenson are still toiling for men. We think we have lost friends when we do not see their faces or hear their voices, but often what they do after death is more important than in life. Death sweeps away their faults and blemishes and leaves remembrance of that only which was good and beautiful. I know men who are held aright by memory of a mother long since gone. Lots of parents are being led heavenward by baby fingers now in the cemetery. All they've touched has influence, the path they walked, the trees that shadowed them, the book they read, the song they sang. Even the pencil marks her baby had scribbled saved a frivolous mother from sin. Life is stronger than death and love than the grave. We do not forget them—they surely do not forget us!

Chronic Stomach Trouble Cured

There is nothing more discouraging than a chronic disorder of the stomach. Is it not surprising that many suffer for years with such an ailment when a permanent cure is within their reach and may be had for a trifle? "About one year ago, I bought a package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using them I have felt perfectly well. I had previously used many number of different medicines, but none of them were of any lasting benefit." For sale by Paull Drug Co.

NOTED SPEAKERS WILL BE HEARD

When Kentucky Educational Association Meets.

GATHERING AT LOUISVILLE.

Program Committee of K. E. A. Extremely Fortunate in Securing Services of Many Distinguished Educators and Speakers of National Reputation. Partial List Given Here.

If never there, you ought to go.

If ever there, you'll want to go.

The program committee of the Kentucky Educational association has been extremely fortunate in securing the services of practically all the prominent speakers that were originally selected for the gathering in Louisville on April 30 and May 1, 2 and 3. The music will be quite varied, as it is planned to have high school glee clubs, class choruses and organ recitals.

Before becoming president of the Armour Institute of Technology of Chicago Dr. Gunsaulus occupied some of the largest pulpits in that city. Whether Dr. Gunsaulus talked in his church or in one of Chicago's great theaters, he always had a large audience to listen to him say big things in a splendid, big way.

Dr. Gunsaulus' lecture dates have carried him all over the country in the winter, and during the summer he is always in demand as a popular Chautauqua talker. One of the finest things about Dr. Gunsaulus is that, although he is popular, he has never failed to say strong, vigorous things.

Colonel Henry Exall.

It will be an inspiration to the trustees who attend the Kentucky Educational association to listen to Colonel Exall of Texas. Last January the Commercial club of Louisville had Colonel Exall as the speaker at the annual New Year gathering and he simply electrified the men present.

Something over two years ago Colonel Exall decided that it was time for Texas to take care of her soil. Now, when Colonel Exall decides things ought to be done the things usually have a way of getting done. He at once inaugurated the Texas industrial congress, which offered $10,000 in gold as prizes for crops in all parts of Texas. It was soon evident that the $10,000 in gold was the least expensive part of the undertaking for the various contestants must be kept in touch with each other and the congress. The undertaking cost $30,000 for the first year. Colonel Exall raised the funds.

This year 4,000 men, women, boys and girls contested for the prizes and the whole state is awake to the fact that results are being produced. In fact this feeling has become so strong that a group of business men are preparing to finance the Texas Industrial congress for a period of three years.

Dr. Charles Evans.

Dr. Charles Evans is president of the State Normal school at Edmond, Okla. He is a transplanted Kentuckian, and like any number of transplanted Kentuckians he has made good in the state of his adoption. He grew up with the country, and grew up big. In fact he has grown so big that he is now being spoken of as the next state superintendent of Oklahoma.

His new book, "Growing a Life," published by Rand, McNally & Co., is receiving favorable comment from prominent educators in all parts of the country. It will probably be adopted as one of the Kentucky reading circle books for the ensuing year.

Dr. Alston Ellis.

Another ex-Kentuckian on the program of the Kentucky Educational association is Dr. Alston Ellis, president of the Ohio university at Athens. For twelve years he has been making history at the University of Ohio, so he is sure to have something worth while to say to the teaching force of his home state.

It is said that his love for Kentucky has never been dimmed by his service out of the state. In fact it is rumored that he will build a handsome home at Fort Thomas, Ky., where he will reside after leaving the university in 1915.

From Oklahoma.

Enid, Mich., 20, 1913.

Editor News:—

As my last letter showed up in your paper, I will come again if you will permit me.

March is two-thirds over and has been a "howling success" so far. The weather man seems to be working overtime, it don't finish one thing until it starts something else, and the wind certainly does blow.

When I came to Oklahoma I took it as an insult for any one to spit on me, but now I am so used to it, I don't care. Sometimes I will think it is beginning to rain, and look up. Not a cloud in the sky, so I just conclude it was some one a few miles South or North, who spat, and I happened to be in its path. Old settlers say it is worse this spring than usual, but they have said that every year since I have been here, and I can't tell any difference.

Well, Wilson has been President most a month, and no panic yet. What do you reckon is the matter? Cattle and hogs continue to soar, an grain prices are normal, and the only panic in sight here is every one running over some one else to get calves. Cattle are selling for better than 7 cents on foot and weighed at home. Hogs are worth $8.10, corn 50 cents, wheat 77 cents, oats 35 cts., Kaffir 41 cents, and we have the best prospect for a wheat crop there has been since I have been in Oklahoma, and most people say they ever saw.

Well, I guess it isn't any of my business to "but in" on the proposition you have before the people of old Adair, in regard to bonding the county to make good roads, but it seems to me that C. G. Jeffries is hammering on the right spot. It looks like a pretty big thing to me to bond the county, but as I have said it isn't my time to "but in," and I guess I had better close. I can't think of any thing but this wind, and if I was to write what I think of it you wouldn't print it.

Respt.

The March term of the Casey Circuit Court closed last Wednesday afternoon, after a nine days session. Judge Carter dispatches business as quickly as possible, and quite a number of cases were removed from the docket. Three felony cases were tried, namely, the case of the Commonwealth, vs Tom Miller, charged with seduction, the jury found the defendant guilty and fixed his punishment at confinement in the penitentiary for a period of four years. Miller will take an appeal.

The case of the Commonwealth vs Willie Swearingen, charged with seduction, the jury returned a verdict of guilty, and fixed his punishment at confinement in the penitentiary for a period of one year and eight months, and he is already serving his time. These are two good examples of how all the despoilers of the womanhood and girlhood of our country should be dealt with, although the penalty is altogether too mild.

In the case of the Commonwealth vs John Wethington, charged with hog stealing, the defendant confessed, and the jury of course found him guilty, and he being under the age of twenty-one years, Judge Carter, sent him to the House of Reform at Greendale, Ky., until he arrives at that age.

The Grand Jury was in session just nine days and returned 41 indictments only 3 of which were upon Felony charges.

Whisky has about taken its flight from Casey County, since Judge Carter went on the bench, and it is seldom you see a drunken man on the streets, that is, during court, and of course that is the only time I am here.

Jamestown.

The wife of preacher John Wooldridge passed from earth to Heaven on the 18th inst. I remember when we used to have our cottage prayer meetings she was a regular attendant and made such sweet, earnest prayers. She leaves a husband, one son and one daughter, also a number of grandchildren.

Mrs. Williams is having her home repaired and she is exceedingly anxious to have the work completed and get everything in good trim so that she can run up to Lexington for a short visit before the boats cease to run.

Miss Josephine Dockery has given up the exchange. Mrs. Sharp will become the operator.

Miss Emma Bragg and Kate Simpson are trimming hats and getting the goods ready for the Spring Opening.

The tall White Pine tree in Mrs. Williams' yard blew down last Thursday night. When we looked out Friday morning and saw it lying prostrate we could hardly refrain from crying as we love trees so well. And we have looked at it for so many years standing there in its tall, beautiful grandeur. The tree was brought from Nashville by Mrs. Elizabeth Jones many years ago.

Our friend, Elmer Wooldridge, was at home for a few days, but has returned to Columbia to pursue his studies. We advise him to "STUDETE BENE."

The wagons are passing back and forth hurriedly taking loads of lumber to the river and returning with loads of merchandise etc.

Miss Mollie Caldwell represents E. Walker & Co., Florists, Louisville, Ky. When in need of flowers, call her at the Exchange.

Wilson's Store.

The general health of this community is very good.

The farmers of this section are making very good use of these nice days.

The candidates and also hog and cattle buyers are very numerous. It is thought by the farmers, that both combined will be the cause of a short crop this season.

Mr. Robert Bailey, who has been in school at Berea, Ky., has returned home on account of measles.

We are informed that Mr. Sam Coffey has sold his farm to Mr. O. A. McKinley, consideration $850.

The April American Magazine.

One very interesting contribution to the April American Magazine is a report showing exactly how Scientific Management is working. Now that agitation of the matter has somewhat subsided, definite results have been obtained in factories where the invention has been put into actual operation. One of the cases reported is that of a Government Arsenal; where, since the adoption of Scientific Management, the cost of molds to the Government (that is, to the people) has been reduced from $1.17 to $.54. The daily earnings of the molder have been increased from $3.28 to $5.74.

"What My Boy Knows" is the title of a remarkable article written by a city father who, because of what he has found out about his sixteen year old boy, has decided to move away from the city to the country.

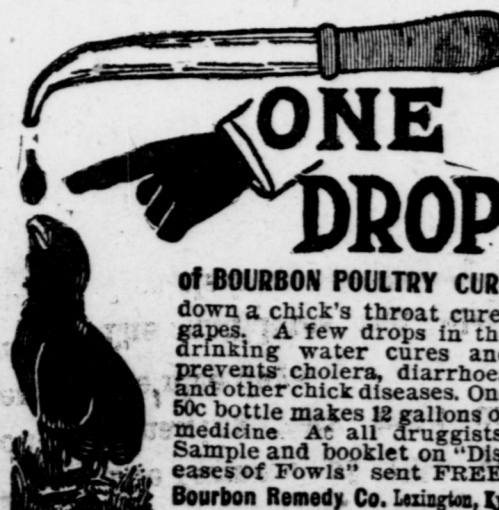

"The Autobiography of a Theatrical Press-Agent," "The Dairy of a Cop," Brand Whitlock's Autobiography and "Health and Horespower" are other important articles. The "Interesting People" department contains five short articles full of interesting ideas and facts, accompanied by rare photographs.

There are stories full of vitality by John A. Moroso, Arnold Bennett, Edna Ferber, L. C. Moice, E. Albert Apple and Henry Kitchell Webster.

The American Magazine has been offering prizes for the best letters descriptive of "The Bravest Thing I Ever Did." The prize-winning letters are published in the April number.

All of the new counterfeit money is in the shape of $5 and $10 bills. We should not worry.

We are glad that the Courier-Journal has gotten rid of its libel suit with William Randolph Hearst. Editor Watterson says he was misinformed and that he gladly retracts the statement reflecting on Hearst, for whom he had always held a most kindly feeling. —Anderson News.
